2024 VERA SUE SPENCER AWARD RECIPIENT

Marisela Jimenez Vera Sue Spencer Award Recipient

Marisela Jimenez of Lubbock has been named the 2024 recipient of South Plains College's Vera Sue Spencer Award.

The award is presented to an SPC student who demonstrates the qualities of outstanding leadership and service to the college and the community. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Spencer established the award in memory of their daughter, Vera Sue, who died while Dr. Spencer was serving as president at SPC. The award was established by the Spencer family in 1971.

Marisela, a graduating criminal justice major, said being recognized with the award was a surprise.

"I'm very honored," she said. "It's amazing that they chose me to represent the school in this way."

The opportunity to learn about criminal justice is one reason

Marisela chose to pursue higher education at SPC. Being the president of the college's Criminal Justice Club helped her decide which career path she wanted to follow.

"It really opened up a lot of opportunities," she said regarding her educational experiences at SPC. "It helped me choose what I wanted to do with my career, and it gave me a steppingstone to a bigger university."

Being a criminal justice student at SPC has allowed Marisela to learn about the different pathways of the field. She originally wanted to be a detective but later became more interested in forensics after touring Texas Tech University's forensics program.

"It really opened my eyes to forensics chemistry," she said.

"There's just a lot of directions in forensics and law enforcement."

Along with the criminal justice classes, Marisela said the faculty members are another great aspect of SPC.

"The teachers are so involved with the students," she said. "They're going to make sure you understand everything. They'll get to know you as a person, and you're not a number like a student at a bigger university."

John Barnes, assistant professor of law enforcement at SPC, is one faculty member Marisela said was a source of inspiration. As a professor and the Criminal Justice Club adviser, he works hard to connect with all the students he meets and continues to keep in touch with former students.

"I don't think I would have made it through my whole college career without him," she said. "He pushed me to step out of my comfort zone and pushed me to become president of the club."

Marisela's college career consisted of multiple achievements including being nominated for Miss Caprock in Fall 2023, being nominated for Homecoming Queen in Spring 2024 and receiving the Outstanding Student in Criminal Justice award at the Spring 2024 student awards ceremony. She was also a dean's list student in Spring 2023 and 2024.

Marisela, a first-generation college student, also credits her parents for helping her be successful at SPC.

"They supported me throughout college," she said. "Without them and their support, I don't think I would have attended college in the first place."

Marisela is a graduate of Lubbock High School and is the daughter of Erineo and Maria Jimenez, who continue to love her and support her in everything she does. After graduating from SPC, she will major in chemistry and minor in criminal justice at Texas Tech University.

The Commencement Ceremony

The Commencement Ceremony, as a whole, affirms the value of learning to society and recognizes the cooperation of many people, on and off campus, who have contributed to the learning enterprise. Above all, it celebrates the effort and achievements, as symbolized by diplomas, degrees and gowns, of the graduates themselves.

The Academic Costume

The origin of the academic costumes worn in commencement ceremonies can be traced to the Middle Ages, when long-sleeved, hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone college. These garments were worn at all academic events, including lectures. Each European college or university had its set of garments indicating the status of the wearers. In the United States, an intercollegiate system of academic costumes has been used since 1894, and the garments are worn chiefly on ceremonial occasions.

The design of the gown indicates the degree attained. The Bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The Master's gown is similar, except for the sleeve which extends to a point. The Doctor's gown is more elaborate and quite full. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the sleeve. The color of this velvet may be black or the color appropriate to the degree. Academic gowns which differ from these characteristics are those worn by persons who have received their degrees from universities outside the United States.

Hoods of varying sizes are worn over the gowns and are generally reserved for the Master's and Doctor's gowns. The hood has velvet edging, the color of which indicates the area of specialization, as does the tassel on the cap. The academic colors include the following:

Apricot – Nursing	Drab – Business	Orange – Engineering
Dark Blue – Philosophy	Green – Medicine	Pink – Music
Light Blue – Education	Green Sage – Physical Education	Purple – Law
Brown – Fine Arts	Lemon – Library Science	Scarlet – Theology
Citron – Social Sciences	Maize – Agriculture	White – Arts and Letters
Copper – Economics	Maroon – Home Economics	Golden Yellow – Science

The inside of the hood is satin and indicates, by its colors and their arrangements, the college or university which granted the degree.

For example:

Texas Tech University – Scarlet and Black
University of Texas – Orange and White
Texas A&M University – Maroon and White
West Texas A&M University – Maroon and White
Eastern New Mexico University – Green and Silver
New Mexico State University – Crimson and White

Graduation with Honors

The Honors Medallion identifies a student who has met the requirements for graduating with Honors and Highest Honors. To qualify for designation as an honor graduate, associate degree graduates must have completed at least 45 college-level semester credit hours at South Plains College when an application for graduation is submitted. Certificate of Proficiency graduates must have completed at least 10 college-level semester credit hours at South Plains College when an application for graduation is submitted. The following cumulative grade point averages determine qualification as honor graduates:

4.00 GPA – Highest Honors

3.85 - 3.99 GPA – Honors

Graduation From The SPC Honors Program

The SPC Honors Program Medallion identifies a student who has met the requirements of the South Plains College Honors Program. Students graduating with the Honors Program designation must have successfully completed at least 12 hours of Honors level courses. Students must apply for admission to the program and are selected based on program requirements.
